

Lennart Piper, Research Manager and Senior Advisor, Sinf - Swedish Industry Association, Sinf Environment & Quality, Sweden

Lennart Piper is an experienced Professional with substantial involvement in Environment, Quality, Occupational Health & Safety, Social responsibility and Information technology (IT). He has been involved from conception through development, implementation and support.

He has 30 years experience in the Environmental and IT industry, principally involved the roles of Business, Systems and Process analyst, as well as Project Management. He is working on the development of software and process solutions for small enterprises, and is author of several books and working for the Swedish Industry Association – Sinf. He is working in a certified management system, particularly interested in problem analysis and process management and is positioned to contribute support in expanding emerging markets with companies on the forefront of delivering business sustainable solutions in the value chain and especially for SME's. In addition he is program manager for the Sustainability of the Planet Program (<http://www.sustainabilityoftheplanet.org>) □□□