

Michal Miedzinski, Senior Consultant, Technopolis Group, Belgium

Michal Miedzinski is senior consultant at Technopolis Group. Michal specialises in policy analysis and foresight in the area of innovation, sustainability and regional development. His preferred focus is on public policies and business models geared towards long-term sustainability. Michal has coordinated the Eco-Innovation Observatory, a major three-year EC-funded initiative (2009-2012) aimed at providing information and analysis on eco-innovation trends in Europe. He has been involved in a number of projects and studies on innovation and sustainability commissioned by the EU institutions, international organisations (OECD, UNIDO) as well as by the regional authorities in many countries (e.g. Poland, Italy, France, Turkey).
