

Professor Martin Jänicke, Free University of Berlin, Germany

Professor Dr. Martin Jänicke has more than 35 years of experience as professor for comparative politics, scientific author and senior policy advisor (e.g. of the planning staff of the Chancellor's Office, 1974-76, or the German Environmental Ministry, since 1999). He was member of the Berlin State Parliament in the early 1980s and member the German UNESCO Commission. He was Director of the Environmental Policy Research Centre, Freie Universität Berlin (1986-2007) and Vice President of the government Expert Council on the Environment (2000-2004). In 2007 he was Expert Reviewer of the 4th IPCC Assessment Report. Today he is member of the International Advisory Board of the Wuppertal Institut and of the Board of the Deutsche Bundesstiftung Umwelt. His books on state failure, ecological modernisation, or best practice in environmental policy have been translated in several languages. In 1998 he received the Prize of the Nature Protection Foundation in Berlin.