

Professor Kerstin Mey, Department for Research and Enterprise, University for the Creative Arts, UK

Kerstin Mey currently holds the position of Director of Research and Enterprise at the University for the Creative Arts, where she is also a Professor in Fine Art. With a degree in Art and German language and literature, a PhD in art theory/ aesthetics and a PG Dip in European Cultural Policy and Administration, she has worked in academic positions in Universities in Germany and the UK. Her own research is concerned with contemporary cultural practices and their social and political situatedness in relation to the generation of place and communities, public pedagogies, and the construction of identities under the influence of migration and digitization. She has been involved in sustainable urban regeneration projects such as a Public Art Strategy for West Belfast and the Greater Shankill area, Belfast Healthy Cities and Belfast Cathedral Quarter Stirring Group.