Luca Venerando Giuffrida, 40 years old, since June 2012 works as Seconded National Expert to Unit E.4 LIFE Environment & Eco-innovation, Directorate-General for Environment, European Commission, Belgium. He is seconded from the Italian Ministry of Economic Development, where, from 2008, he was a Legal Officer in the Energy Department and an Auditor for Cooperatives Companies. From 2001 to 2008, he started working as a trainee Lawyer, and then he was a fully qualified Lawyer and a Teacher of Law and Economics.

Luca owns a Ph.D. in Administrative Law, obtained in 2012 from the Guglielmo Marconi University, Rome, Italy, in which he wrote a thesis in Environmental and Energy Law. He has also an Advanced University Degree in Disciplines of Law and Economics, received in 2005 from Catania University, Italy, and an Advanced University Degree for Legal professions, obtained by the same University in 2003.

His interest in the Environmental and Energy fields has led him to write a number of articles, which have been published in journals specialising in this field, to give lectures in a Master's course and to participate in Conferences dealing with these issues.
