Callum Blackburn, Head of Policy Support, Zero Waste Scotland, Scotland

Callum Blackburn is the Head of Policy Support at Zero Waste Scotland (ZWS). He has recently completed a secondment with the Scottish Government where he was the Policy Manager for the Circular Economy.

Callum has more than 15 years' experience in the field of policy and programme development. This experience includes the delivery of the sustainable development and waste strategies for Falkirk Council, being MWH's Principal Waste Consultant in Scotland, and leading a range of projects as an independent Project Manager.

As the Transition Manager for ZWS he helped to merge the seven previously separate support programmes under the umbrella of ZWS in 2011, and he coordinated the Scottish Energy and Resource Efficiency Service (SERES) partnership prior to the introduction of Resource Efficient Scotland in April 2013.

Callum is a member of the Chartered Institute of Waste Management (CIWM).
