

Sustainable Innovation 2023
Accelerating Sustainability in the Creative Economy and Creative Industries
Online: 24th International Conference
20th – 26th March 2023
University for the Creative Arts
Epsom, Surrey, UK

Andrew Simms, Author, Political Economist and Campaigner, UK

Andrew Simms is an author, political economist and campaigner. He is co-director of the New Weather Institute, coordinator of the Rapid Transition Alliance, assistant director of Scientists for Global Responsibility, a research associate at the University of Sussex, and was policy director for many years at the New Economics Foundation. He co-authored and published the original Green New Deal in 2008, devised 'Earth Overshoot Day,' and with Prof Peter Newell, proposed the Fossil Fuel Non Proliferation Treaty. Andrew set up the Badvertising campaign – to stop adverts fuelling the climate emergency with colleague, Leo Murray, and New Scientist magazine called him a 'master at joined up progressive thinking'. Andrew's books include Cancel the Apocalypse, Ecological Debt, The New Economics, Tescopoly, Do Good Lives Have to Cost the Earth? and Economics: A Crash Course, a beginners guide from a plural, new economics' perspective. His other current campaigns include Car Free Mega Cities. He tweets from @andrewsimms_uk