We are OnMateria, a design studio based in Sweden between Stockholm and Skåne, specialising in objects and design consultancy. Founded in 2019 by Eléa Nouraud (Fr) and Lola Buades (Es) after meeting during our Master in Product Design at the Swiss institution ECAL. Combining our vision of design and sustainability in a multidisciplinary design studio, specialising in the fields of product, furniture and service design. Constantly looking to bring a positive impact, our work explores from raw materials and manufacturing innovations to user experience and life cycles. Since the creation of OnMateria we have brought our sustainable design thinking to local and international organisations such as IKEA and Tourism in Skåne.
