Dr Laurent Bontoux, Senior Foresight Policy Expert, EU Policy Lab, Business European Commission's Joint Research Centre, Brussels

Dr Laurent Bontoux is a Senior Foresight for Policy Expert at the EU Policy Lab of the European Commission's Joint Research Centre where he works to provide the best possible foresight evidence to EU policymaking.

He has engineering degrees in food technology (FR) and in environmental engineering (USA). Prior to joining the European Commission, he worked to ensure the environmental safety of household products at Procter & Gamble. At the European Commission, he spent most of his career working at the science/policy interface with a focus on sustainable development, health and environmental risk assessment before shifting to foresight.
